Commissioner Nyquist asked, for clarification, what the timeframe would be to complete the master plan and whether there was a dollar amount attached. Mr. Carroll stated that, if they were to complete the project all at once, it would be a $7 million project. However, they would be doing the project in phases so, what it would cost at today’s dollars versus what it would cost in five years to complete, it could be more. Mr. Carroll stated that, in regard to the timeline, they would like to complete the project within 3-5 years but he suspected it would take longer. He recognized Tristan Davis, Parks Operations Supervisor, who was in the audience to provide additional information if the Board had specific questions. Discussion followed.

C. Parks Update.

Mr. Carroll stated that his department was in the process of continuing to build yurts and some other projects were underway. He also stated that they were working on the water system at Sunnyside Park and the restrooms at Lewis Creek Park because the infrastructure in the ground is over 50 years old and a lot of time has been spent on repairs. Mr. Carroll stated, that in the future, the Board may see a grant in regard to replacing that infrastructure.

Commissioner Nyquist asked Mr. Carroll how much of the $7 million dollars would be done with a grant and whether or not the County should set aside economic development dollars to help with the infrastructure cost. Mr. Carroll stated that it would be helpful but his department was always seeking grants for their projects. Discussion followed.

Commissioner Sprenger stated that she was impressed, not only with the County’s Park System, but that Mr. Carroll manages the Parks Department without using General Fund dollars. Commissioner Tucker agreed and asked Mr. Carroll to consider, as he builds the timeframe for projects, to provide the Board with a time path forward to show what is used with Transient Lodging Tax (TLT) and what is used from other funding sources. This would give the Board a list of prioritized projects and scheduled timeframes to determine what may be available from economic development dollars.

Commissioner Nyquist then asked Mr. Carroll how many people come through the parks in a year. He stated that he was given a number of 700,000 and asked if that was over a 20-year period or for one year. Mr. Carroll stated that it was an estimate for one-year attendance and stated, at a minimum, half a million people come through the parks system. Discussion followed.
